Single Wire Shiraz

Single Wire is special as it was the first Tin Shed wine made in 1998

Grown in high Barossa, also known as Eden Valley, the cooler climate means slower ripening and beautifully elegant wine. Shallow soils make for a lesser-cropped vineyard, ensuring grapes are high quality and full of flavour.

Our Single Wire Shiraz spent 20 months in a mix of new and aged French oak, producing a wine deep red in colour, bright and inviting.

The nose shows dark red fruit, Eden Valley herbals, layers of dark spice, white pepper, and violets with seamlessly integrated French oak, powerful yet elegant.

On the palate are layers of dark fruits, spice, smoked meats with well-balanced acidity, fine French oak, and silky tannins. This wine has great structure, elegance and opulence, showing its unique influence and versatility.

Tom Kline

The flagship offering from Tin Shed.

This is Eden Valley fruit and the wine sees 20 months in a mix of new and old French oak.

Milk chocolate melds with blackberry, brown spice, and smoke to begin with. This is followed by coffee grounds, a creamy note from the oak, and a bit of lacquer aroma, too, from a high ABV.

The palate is full bodied, with a creamy texture. Blackberry, milk chocolate, mocha, cacao, and some red plum. This plum note carries with the a critically freshening acid line alongside fine, silky tannins. It finishes quite long and fine.

There's a cool Eden Valley elegance that permeates this wine, despite its ripeness, obvious oak influence, and 15% ABV. Nicely done.

Jeni Port

The flagship offering from Tin Shed.

A combination of single vineyard, old vines and minimal intervention winemaking equals a good mix of ingredients behind this '21 Shiraz.

It works well, producing a sweet-fruited and tasty Barossa Shiraz that fills the mouth with juicy flavour. Rich purple hues. Plums, black cherries, cassis and black fruits aplenty light up the aroma with aniseed, spices and earth.

Offers a generous richness, no doubt the result of 15% alcohol, and it's carried well across a full-bodied middle palate. Woodsmoke oak is applied sensitively. Has easy drinking in mind and is ready to be enjoyed immediately.
