Wild Bunch Riesling

Wild Bunch Riesling started its life deep in Eden Valley on David Sanders' mature Riesling block, between Craneford and the township.

The vineyard has a slight easterly aspect, and the row orientation is east-west, which is ideal as it misses the harsh westerly sun directly hitting the vines.

The 2023 vintage in Eden Valley was an exceptional year for Riesling, with perfect acidity and fruit flavours.

Pale straw with green hues on the nose exhibits delicate lime blossom, jasmine, and citrus fruits with a hint of lemon sherbet.

The palate is crisp Granny Smith apple, lemon, lime and spring blossoms, great length with well-balanced acidity, texture and mouthfeel that delivers a fresh, crisp, and clean finish.

A refreshing wine of thirst-slaking appeal.

Kumquat, makrut lime, lime pith, melon, and lemon blossom straight off, with a touch of quince in support.

Nice intensity to the palate, with melon, lime juice, ripe lemon, lemon blossom again and a touch of spice.

There's a good hit of spritely acidity here, drawing the palate in and providing line and carry for the citrus notes.

Great value.

This Wild Bunch Riesling from Tin Shed Wines is a solid summertime refreshment from Tin Shed Wines.

Pretty aromas and chalky feels show its Eden Valley roots.

Lime juice, lemon rind and scents of white flowers and musk up the excitement levels. Waxy apple and a citrus drive coat the mouth with a mineral undertow.

Good acidity adds some crunch and cleanses the mouth. Good stuff.
